The Carbon Tax Bill is set to come into effect on 1 June 2019. The Bill has been approved by both the National Assembly and the National Council of Province and is now awaiting the President's signature.

IMBEWU will be hosting a half-day workshop on the Carbon Tax Bill to assist organisations with coming to grips with this new legislation. The workshop will also include training on the Greenhouse Gas Reporting Regulations under the Air Quality Act, which forms a critical component of the carbon tax regime.

Any organisation falling within the ambit of the Carbon Tax Bill or the Greenhouse Gas Reporting Regulations should attend this workshop, including companies in the energy, mining, transport, waste and chemicals industries. Government officials dealing with carbon tax, greenhouse gas reporting or climate change legislation should also attend.

Peggy Schoeman, one of IMBEWU's Sustainability Legal Consultants, will be presenting the Carbon Tax Workshop. Peggy has run a number of workshops on various developments in environmental law, most recently a fully-booked workshop on South Africa's climate change legal regime, which included the Greenhouse Gas Reporting Regulations and Carbon Tax Bill. Comments from this workshop included that "the workshop synthesized a large body of work into a concise and understandable session" and that the material was "clearly presented".
